Crosman Barrel Spacer Sizing

The trick to cutting your spacer to length is, like most things, not to cut too short. The spacers have a tendency to crack and split when cut. As such, cut your spacer .5" to 1" too long with a pair of side cutters or scissors.

Then, the best way to get a clean finish is with a bench grinder. Just like you're sharpening a mower blade...

Also, remember to "measure twice, cut once!"
